

We commit to working together to meet the UN-agreed goals of ensuring availability and sustainable management of water and sanitation for all (SDG6), substantially reducing waste generation through prevention, reduction, recycling and reuse (SDG12) and protecting our oceans (SDG14) by 2030.

We recognise that 884 million people around the world still lack access to safe, reliable sources of water, more than 2 billion have no access to basic sanitation and less than 10% of plastic is recycled.

We recognise that lack of access to clean water and sanitation endangers health and livelihoods, prevents children from attending school and reaching their full potential and hinders economic development.

We recognise that sustainable management of water and sanitation underpins almost all the SDGs – and that we have the potential to make a significant contribution to human development by supporting the achievement of SDG6.

We therefore support the launch of Water Unite, which aims to raise new, catalytic funds for WASH activities and investments and a reduction in plastic waste, through a partnership with the bottled water sector, retailers and other stakeholders.

As members of the food & drinks industry, we commit to contributing a proportion of revenues (a micro-contribution) to create Water Unite.

We encourage bottled water producers, distributors, retailers and consumers to join us in launching this ambitious new fund to end water poverty and reduce plastic waste.
